Peace Axis Is Seen London To Washington

British Believe There is Discernible Action In Great World Capitals to Bring Moral Pressure on Germany

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 10.—President Edward Benes in a statement to the press here to the Czechoslovak mission today announced that he is ready to "say something" to the Nazi German critics. Mr. Chamberlain also held a quick meeting of key ministers privately before the scheduled broadcast by President Edward Benes of Czechoslovakia. The prime minister abandoned plans to spend the weekend in the country and decided to remain in London in order to be in touch with the situation.

A new European editor of the United States in world affairs is reported in the following dispatch by Webb Miller, European general manager of the United Press and for 20 years an ace correspondent abroad.—EDITOR.

WEBB MILLER

British United Press, Exclusive Cable to Edmonton Bulletin.—LONDON, Sept. 10.—Europe is convinced that the United States has morally allied herself with Great Britain and France to stop Adolf Hitler. The British, in particular, believe that there is a vague but discernible "peace axis" stretching from Washington to London to Paris.

Foreign Policy Clear

Never for a moment quitting his smile in the face of political troubles, President Roosevelt today calls upon the world to take answer for the foreign policy of the United States in the recent speeches of Cordell Hull and the Foreign Minister of Canada, Mackenzie King.

These developments have nourished a revised European view of America's position.

—President Roosevelt's speech declaring that the United States would "not stand idly by" if Canada was attacked.

—Premier Joseph Lyons' statement in Sydney calling attention to the Anglo-American dispute over Pacific island rights as a "grave and serious" matter.

—The series of broadcasts by Secretary of State Cordell Hull aimed at world restoration of international law and the principles of the so-called democratic nations against "international anarchy."

—The Foreign Minister's statement that the United States has made any definite commitment to the defense of the axis is effective for the purpose of bringing moral pressure on Germany to stand up against aggression.

Justice Refuses to Dismiss Charges Linking Hines With Mobsters

CASE WILL BE GIVEN TO JURY FOR VERDICT

Cheque Holds Spotlight Of Trial—Handwriting Expert Testifies

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The defense of Frank J. Hines today demanded that today for trial of charges linking the Tammany leader to the Dutch Schultz mob as political protection, instantly launching an attack on the state's only documentary evidence in the case—a $5000 cheque.

Apparently unperturbed that Supreme Court Justice Charles F. Parsons had refused to throw out the conspiracy count and 12 felony counts against the defendant, Chief District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey called J. Howard Haring, handwriting expert, who said he believed a note on the endorsement on the cheque had been written between the endorsements of "J. R. Davis" and "Eddie Holly."

HARING ON STAND

The state's contention, the cheque was given to Hines by the mob as part payment for helping obtain releases of arrested policy racket workers and to cover up the number of raids on police banks.

Haring also testified he believed a memorandum of a proposed settlement, concerning the introduction by the state, could not have been written as the persons taking it.

Detective Julius Saks, testifying for the state, had sworn he made a verbal complaint of a conversation he overheard between Hines and Haring as "The Boss" talked with J. Richard (Dixie) Davis—the mob's lawyer—in 1933.

DEWEY SCORES POINT

Haring said, however, on cross-examination by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, that "many cases of this kind" in which the name might be written first on the back of a cheque and that his testimony was merely a matter of opinion.

Commenting on the evidence adduced by the defense, the judge of the court of common pleas said that his opinion that Hines was a principal in operating the policy game, Justice Parsons said he own mind was not changed, but free from doubt as to whether the evidence establishes a prima facie case, but that the trial of the case, if there is an appeal, he would permit the jury to pass on the question of fact. A Saturday session will be held.

CREWS BATTLE GROUND FIRES NEAR CHISHOLM

Two new ground fires in the Chisholm area were reported Saturday to the forestry branch of the provincial lands and mines department. It is believed, from reports received, that these fires started from the sparks of fires which are burning in the area.

The man who drives at seventy-five or forty miles an hour, although at the time he feels that he is going slowly, is in reality driving at the right side of the speed limit.

HOPPER FIGHT STARTED NOW THROUGH WEST

REGINA, Sept. 10.—First official contact between the governments of Alberta and Manitoba to coordinate activities of the three provinces in fighting grasshoppers in 1939 was made today by Hon. J. G. Taggart, Saskatchewan minister of agriculture, and Hon. W. M. MacLennan, minister for Alberta, who are in attendance.

Attracted by his friend's shout as he rested in his tent, young Hewett, although suffering agony from his axe wound, and driven from loss of blood, immediately started to his friend's rescue.

An indifferent swimmer, Hewett knew he had no chance of saving his friend if he tried to swim in the water, so quickly grabbed a log and log and lashed them together as well as he could with old cords while cutting logs.

The conference was called primarily to discuss marketing of the conference was called primarily to discuss marketing.

Hon. D. L. Campbell, minister of agriculture for Manitoba, and Hon. W. M. MacLennan for Alberta, are in attendance.

While preliminary arrangements are also being made for the other two of those of United States government work on an egg survey is being pursued under direction of K. M. King, federal entomologist.

FADDLES TO AID

In his improvised raft he put out to his friend from the water, and when his friend was unable to get a foothold of flat wood picked up from the floor of their tent. Helped by the friend he was able to get a foothold.

The transfer of Langer to the raft was a difficult task, but the two toward shore, being helped by his friend when sufficiently recovered from the long immersion.

SELENE COVERAGE

"For public courage I have never seen anything to equal the action of young Hewett," stated Mr. Taggart, "and I am sure he deserved every bit and yes he faced almost certain death if the improvised raft had broken up while he was being transferred to the raft. Such courage should not pass unnoticed and unrewarded," he added.

The gallant act of young Hewett is brought to the attention of the press authorities.

Britain Looking To Canada For Oil Supplies, Says Nazi Authority

TURNER VALE FIELDS WOULD FILL ORDERS

Vast Production Of Alberta Wells Recognized In Germany

BERLIN, Sept. 10.—Great Britain is looking to Canada as a source of oil supplies, according to an article in the Volkischer Beobachter, official organ of the Nazi party.

The article says: "The committee of imperial defense has never given more than a partial approval to experiments for the extraction of oil from shale in the Mediterranean, but it is clear that England has complete command of the seas. The House of Commons, however, is agitating for the development of the oil fields for this purpose in case of war.

SEVERAL REASONS

"There are several reasons for this. First, the oil wells of Africa are controlled by British capital, would prove almost useless in time of war. Second, the Mediterranean shipping routes would be cut off. The oil supply from Trinidad and Venezuela would not be sufficient for England's needs. The British government has quarreled with the Mexican government over the expatriation of its concessions.

OTHER REASONS

"For these reasons the British government is taking an interest in Canadian oil fields in the province of Alberta, particularly in the Turner Valley.

The present rate of production of the 50 wells situated there is 10,000 barrels a year, or approximately 5,000 bbls. The figure could, however, be increased any moment to something like 50,000 bbls per year.

The figure of 40,000 barrels per year as the output of Turner Valley wells is not far from the truth.

Producing wells having a potential output of more than this amount daily are not uncommon.

Exploratory work is in the neighborhood of 23,363 barrels per day—Editor, Bulletin.

The project for a pipeline between Turner Valley and Port Arthur is also under consideration.

Wasted Time

The city council has a genius for wasting time. The skill it showed in running away from the National Housing Act should make it a strong competitor for the honor of having set up a new record in the clear evasion of civic duty. That act, which permits homes to be built at the unprecedented low interest rate of two per cent and with the federal government bearing ninety per cent of the total cost, was passed July 1. On Wednesday, September 7, the finance committee at long last decided it might be wise to take some action. The Edmontonians the benefit of this federal aid, the most generous ever made in the history of Canada. What was council doing all summer? Simply twiddling its thumbs.

Members of council cannot plead the pressure of other duties as an apology for their intolerable delay. Helping Edmonton profit from the Housing Act was the one major task facing them. By failing in that duty, they must not hope to escape the severe censure which neglect of plain responsibility always demands.

The excuse they cite to palliate their grievous delay is even worse than their inaction. They have the audacity to take refuge in open and proclaimed ignorance. Our city fathers, to whom is entrusted the task of governing the city, admit that they did not have copies of the Housing Act until this week and did not understand its terms. Yet the act received emphatic and luminous publicity in the press; the explanations given were so clear that many contractors applied to council in the hope of benefiting from it; and other city councils, less palsied by fatal indecision than our own, moved swiftly and already had laid plans for constructive civic housing programs.

What results from the council's shirking of duty, its slow dalliance between action and irresolution? Simply that a summer has been wasted and consideration of housing plans begin in the fall, long after the best season for building has come and gone.

At Wednesday's committee meeting two architects said they were associated with a firm making designs for a $1,250,000 housing project in which they had decided the city had brains enough to understand the act or to get information about it before September 7. What happened to the architects' suggestion that an active program be instituted here? The only thing that could have happened, in view of council's waste of time, Commissioners Hodgson and Gibb are reported to have said that council will have the whole winter to think about the plan, as it is too late now to do anything about it. Other proposals will also languish for lack of attention.

The pity of it all is that the city has more than enough vacant lots of its own to make up its ten per cent contribution so that a vigorous housing program would have cost it virtually nothing. But the council showed a singularly shameful inactivity and so bungled the great opportunity.

Council members were a good deal more anxious a few months ago to get the Fortin plan for Edmonton at ruinous high interest rates of 4½, 5, 6 and 7 per cent. But when it came to getting a loan from the Dominion government at two per cent, they balked.

Bondholders gratefully remember the generosity of council on the Fortin plan. Taxpayers also will remember its delay in dealing constructively with the challenging opportunities presented by the National Housing Act.

Let Us Forget

Nineteen years ago today the Allied Powers imposed on Austria the dictated peace of St. Germain. It was a harsh settlement; so harsh, in fact, that the treaty did not come into effect until almost a year later. It broke up the nation and made Vienna a capital city in a country too poor to sustain it. Within a short time the very nations that made the pact, repented of their folly and loaned Austria immense sums to keep it from sinking.

Austria slowly came back to at least a tittle of its former gaiety and prosperity. But it still wanted economic co-operation with Germany. The treaty of St. Germain forbade a customs union without the prior consent of the League of Nations. Three times in ten years that wholesome idea of having the two Germanic countries enjoy freer trade was denied by Geneva.

At length, weakened by her wounds, inflamed by a sense of wrong, Austria fell into the hands of Hitler. Europe's own folly sowed the seeds of the great disaster. Most Austrians wanted economic co-operation with Germany, not political annexation. They were denied the former. They had to accept the latter at the point of the sword.

Rubbing an old sore is useless. All that he had said, in epitaph, is that Austria now is a memory, the gaiety of Vienna is a sad myth, and over the once proud people broods a tragedy whose unfolding grimness holds an apprehensive world in awe.

Keep Smiling!

There is no need of wearing a long face these days. War clouds may loom over Europe and Asia may be rent by strife, but plenty of cheery things are still being done in this untidy world. Friday's bundle of news, for example, yielded the following items:

Alberta is having this season will be almost twice as large as last year's.

Canada's wheat crop is estimated at 388,432,000 bushels, a figure that spells prosperity in capital letters for this country.

No major traffic accidents have taken place in the city for days. Keep all fingers crossed, please.

An Indiana man lost $900. He found it half an hour later in a shoe box lying on a gutter.

Jenny Morris is at Jasper now and still is having a great time.

And—thankful for small mercies—even the Czechs and Germans are only arguing, not fighting.

But it must be admitted that Friday's news, good as it was, did not produce anything to rival the famous advertisement that appeared many years ago in a Paris paper. It read:

"Wanted—A professor to come twice a week to the home of a noble family in order to reform the pronunciation of a parrot."

No one learned if he came.

A Great Canadian

The mark of greatness is fixed upon the name of Mr. Nathan L. Nathanson, president of the Western Picture Company Corporation, who was in the city Friday. He had the vision years ago to sense the destiny that awaited the film industry, and also the ability to take a creative part in the process of bringing that destiny to a rich fruition.

Today he heads a huge film empire and his name is one to conjure with in the motion picture world. It is worth noting, too, that of all the members of this Canadian Corporation, only two are non-Canadians. Mr. Nathanson has built up a truly Canadian industry that brings delight to all his fellow-citizens.

Sad news for vaudeville comedians and newspaper humorists. The Toronto Board of Control has voted to ban the use of the venerated "blue Sunday" for which Toronto has long been famous. Toronto will never see the same again. An unsuspecting visitor may still run off the risk of being carted off in the police wagon and HATH DEPARTED."

Staid newspapers in England are discussing a question of some importance. A man has died in his home. On the night of August 5, the head of the household was found in the kitchen when a steel-headed hairbrush flew from a box on the wall, inflicting a painful blow on his head. He died shortly after a police constable flew it from a table in a kitchen cabinet.

While the man and his wife, a woman lodger were discussing the strange happening, a knife flew from the kitchen table and struck the lodger in the eye. She was attending to her injury, a hamster fell from its place in the hall and a clock dropped from a table in the kitchen.

That was too much for the women. Both of them fled. Neighbors were called and they sent for the police. While the officer was taking notes, a clothes brush flew from the top of a piano into the room. To this point all the happenings had taken place between the two of them.

Now comes the strongest part of the story.

While the residents, the constable and some friends were looking into the fireplace they saw a brass stand for the fire-irons move. Slowly it turned, and with a roar it came to a halt, a little hamster down like the hamster in the bar in "The Man Who Could Work Miracles."

That was more than any of them could stand. The residents sought lodgings elsewhere, leaving the police to worry over the dead constable.

NEUTRALITY ACT CHANGE TALK IN U.S.

Propose Applying Arms Embargoes Only Against Aggressor Nations

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—While an uneasy world studied possibilities of the European situation, talk was heard Friday of a move to make drastic changes in the United States Neutrality Act.

Chairman J. McDonald (Democrat) of the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee predicted many members of the next congress would favor revisions under which arms embargoes could be applied only against aggressor nations.

NON-COMMITAL

McDonald, who said he was not offered any such suggestion or expressing any opinion about what should be done.

"Now," he said, "so many people in this country are sympathetic with the Chinese in their conflict against Japan that there is already some support for applying embargoes, in the president's discretion, only against aggressor countries."

If the president now finds a war exists, he has no choice but to apply the embargo to both sides.

Canadian Fruit Prices Are Expected to Hold Up on Foreign Markets

TRADE PACTS NOT LIKELY TO HURT INDUSTRY

Apples Returning Satisfactory Prices From United Kingdom

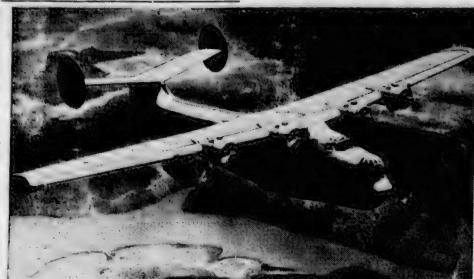

OTTAWA, Sept. 10.—The Canadian Horticultural council issued a statement through its secretary, R. E. G. Smith, expressing belief that the price for Canadian apples in the United Kingdom market will continue to hold up regardless of the results of the pending trade agreements between the United Kingdom and the United States, and Canada and the United States.

The statement said:

"After the termination of the horticultural committee's negotiations, we believe that buyers of fresh apples and fresh pears for export are using present standards of quality, the result of a partial removal of the existing price preference of 4s 6d a hundredweight upon Canadian fresh apples and pears, and that the United Kingdom is enabled thus to purchase at least as fair market value."

"Growers and shippers have been warned by the council that all the trade agreements in reference to the trade negotiations are entirely unofficial. There is no official indication that the Canadian fruit industry is to be definitely effected by the trade agreements and no reason to believe that the government had decided

ROSS S. SHEPPARD
Ross S. Sheppard, assistant superintendent, Edmonton Public schools. Was born in 1888 at Belhaven, Ont. Last year he was elected to the Board of Education by Walter F. Kuhl, Social Credit party, who defeated Harry Charles Stewart, Liberal, and George Bevington, C.C.P., in the 1935 general election.

REGISTRATION WILL BE OPEN SEPTEMBER 27

Officials Expect Attendance This Year May Reach Record

With the opening of the fall and winter session of the University of Alberta only three weeks away, officials are prepared for the largest enrollment in the history of the school who will be studying for degrees in five faculties.

Registration for new students will begin on September 27, with senior students checking in on Wednesday and Thursday, the first two days of the month, Friday, September 30. Registration this year is a few days later than last year.

RECORD
Last year's attendance made a new record with over 17,000 students registered. Officials are unable to determine exactly what the enrollment will be greater, but present indications point to a possible new high.

Favorable crop conditions and limited attendance of the University of British Columbia may have contributed to the record enrollment at the University of Alberta in 1931. Taught at Strathcona High School, the first year student principal from 1930 with Dr. A. H. McDougall wrote the text in theoretical and analytical agriculture.

Due to the limited facilities available, the applied science and household economics. This year students in those faculties are required to stand high jump and was a member of the Canadian Olympic team in 1932. Religions, golf, skating. Business address: fifth floor, Civic block.

COMBINED COURSE

There are no major changes in the course of study this year other than the addition of a combined course in Arts and Commerce, which will be a five-year course. The standard course have been raised the first year students have been given an average of 60 per cent for their marks and all the courses will be able to go to their second year students.

The number of students in the faculty of the university this year has increased in all the various departments and the record of senior school members, G. M. Smith, M.C., B.A., M.A. formerly of the department of agriculture, the new and newly-elected post as Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, replacing Dr. Alexander MacKenzie, who accepted a position at the University of California. Eight other appointments were made last spring, to be effective for the coming session of the university.

SPED SCENE
Enabling the officers in the auto club to meet with the headquarters in the central police station, the auto clubs would speed the arrival of the police in case of a crime, giving the criminals little time to get a getaway car. It is also suggested that such weapons as a shotgun, pistol or other such devastating weapons are necessary for this city, since the chief weapon of the criminal underworld is the gangster type, but rather arable thieves, house burglars, and the occasional auto-burglar.

Driver of a truck that crashed into a guard rail and split two passengers in two, appeared to answer a charge of causing bodily harm by wanton driving, and since the man was given an adjournment to September 12.

Charged with attempting to procure a woman for immoral purposes, a man, who was seen, also a woman, was given an adjournment to September 12.

Well, Gads, it won't be long now until the day of the big race. But have you seen the first winner? That's right, the first column on Wednesday! Plenty of prizes. And there are several classes. And there are three for girls—so that everyone can have an equal chance to win a prize. And remember, there is still time for you to enter.

You will have nearly two weeks in which to get your kit, enter the contest, and begin to enter your entries. All the names of the prizes are amazingly simple to build and will really fly—in fact, flights of 100 feet are quite possible. And, within the range of this rubber-powered plane.

And, incidentally, how are you carping kids getting along? Some of you have your planes finished and ready to fly now. If any of you have, I'd like you to drop me a line and tell me about it. And I'd like to hear about it in this column. And, while you are at it, tell me how you like the contest.

If you are having any trouble with your plane don't forget to drop me a line and tell me about it. And I'll be glad to help you to do it. What's this? What's this column? For you, to help you? Gads, I'm glad to hear that will really bid records.

Be particularly careful when you are making your propeller to follow the instructions in the kit. Take plenty of time and don't make the propeller any narrower than you can help. Be careful to see that the propeller is balanced. Use the same amount of "pull" too, because otherwise you won't get all the power from your rubber motor.

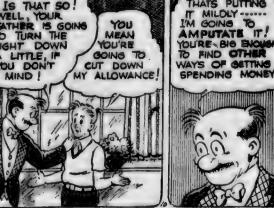

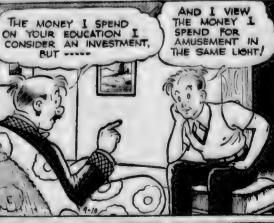

The propeller is the most important part of the plane, because it is the part that makes it fly, and you can't be too careful with it.

My suggestion is that you test it in the dark, so that you can see if the balance and pitch of both blades is being maintained as you build it, and be careful to make it so that it should be sanded down to shape—no carved.

Well, that's all for now. See you all again next week.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

BOWER-BIRDS

ARE RELATED TO THE BEAUTIFUL BIRDS OF PARADISE, AND ARE CONFINED TO TROPICAL PARTS OF THE AUSTRALIAN REGION. THE NAME COMES FROM A MOST REMARKABLE HABIT OF BUILDING ARTISTICALLY DECORATED BOWERS, OR ARBORS.

THESE BOWERS ARE BUILT BY THE MALES, BEFORE THE ACTUAL NESTING SEASON, AND ARE USED AS COURTING PLACES. GAY-COLORED SHELLS, STONES AND FLOWERS ARE USED AS DECORATIONS. AS THE FLOWERS FADE, FRESH ONES ARE BROUGHT TO REPLACE THEM.

THE SATIN BOWER-BIRD CONSTRUCTS AN ELABORATE AVENUE OF GRASS AND TWIGS, AND BEDECKS THE ENTRANCE WITH SHELLS, BONES AND FEATHERS OF BRIGHTLY COLORED BIRDS.

THE TRUE NEST, OF ORDINARY CONSTRUCTION, IS BUILT AT A LATER DATE... USUALLY IN A TREE SOME DISTANCE FROM THE PLAYGROUND.
